RATIONALE: We feel adding more points to the body and color are important characteristics of the Khao Manee, set them apart from other cats, and is more aligned with our vision for the breed. We received feedback from several judges and board members that there were too many points on the eyes and removed points from them in order to allow a better distribution across these other two very important features.

2. PROPOSED: Revise the GENERAL section of the standard as follows:

Current:

GENERAL: The Khao Manee is a natural breed of Thailand. The Khao-plort (“all white”) cat with mercury colored eyes is described in the Tamra Maew, the Siamese Cat Poems, dating at least 700 years ago. Although it is not certain when the cat fanciers of Siam began to favor odd-eyes in the Khao-plort, it was probably about 100 years ago. The cats at that time came to be called Khaomanee which means “white gem”. Like other native cats of Thailand, they should have characteristics suitable for the hot, wet, tropical climate, including a lithe, but not extreme, body, medium length nose (to handle hot air better than a short nose), a short smooth coat, and a muscular and athletic, but never bulky, body. Characteristics more typical of Western breeds, such as round heads with short muzzles and round eyes, are to be avoided. The personality of the Khao Manee, like that of all the native cats of Thailand, is communicative, though not necessarily noisy. They are active, playful, curious cats. They love to interact with people and hate to be left alone and ignored. The Khao Manee is a highly intelligent and affectionate breed.

3. PROPOSED: Revise description of HEAD as follows:

Current:

HEAD: Modified wedge, with medium width and moderate length. Viewed from the front, the face appears elliptical, with focus points just below the outer corners of the eyes. Fairly prominent cheek bones lie along an inner ellipse with the same focus points. Tip of nose and tips of ears form points of an equilateral triangle.

Proposed:

TAIL: Medium. Proportional to the body, tapering gradually to the tip. Palpable kinks accepted, and visible kinks accepted from the tip to the last third of the tail.

RATIONALE: Being a natural breed of Thailand, the Khao Manee breeders throughout the world are seeing up to 75% of kittens with visible tail kinks. Rather than eliminate those cats from our breeding programs and potentially destroying our gene pool, we would like to embrace those kinks as a natural occurrence of the breed, as long as the kinks are not from the base to two-thirds point on the tail.

RATIONALE: The Khao Manee is known as the cat with mercury colored eyes. Because of this, we do not want judges to penalize a pale colored eye. We wanted to make the eye color description clear to indicate equal weight to any depth of color and remove a potential preference for deep eye color.
